

Presiding Officer, 2009 Convention

One Clergy (Nominated by the Standing Committee)

The consensus of the Nominating Committee is that the presiding officer should come from the Standing Committee since it is the Ecclesiastical Authority in our diocese at this time. The Committee also believes this election does not require two nominees since it is not listed in the categories of Canon 1.5 Section 4 of the Canons of the Diocese of Oregon.

The Rev. Anne Bartlett
Trinity, Ashland (since 2000), Vice President, Standing Committee

Previous diocesan positions: Board of Trustees, 1998-2000; General Convention Deputy, 2003 and 2006; Diocesan Council, 1993-95

Standing Committee

(Elect one (1) clergy for a four-year term and one (1) clergy four a one-year term)
(Elect one (1) lay person for a four-year term)

CLERGY ORDER FOUR-YEAR TERM

The Rev. Steve Tyson
Emmanuel, Coos Bay

Parish activities: Rector of Emmanuel Parish since 2001. Previously served as rector of St. John, Marysville, CA, and as vicar of St. Thomas, Dallas, OR, St. Hilda, Monmouth.

Diocesan activities: Member of Diocesan Council numerous times; active on numerous diocesan commissions, including Evangelism, Higher Education, and Camps and Conferences. Other board participation includes Habitat for Humanity, Hospice, and the Victims-Offenders Reconciliation Program.

Statement: I bring to this position a love of this diocese and this area, as a native Oregonian, and with many experiences in the ministry of our Church. I have an open mind, a lot of patience, and a commitment to the people of our diocese.

The Rev. Sandra "Raggs" Ragan
St. James, Tigard

Diocesan activities: Diocesan Council, Program and Budget Committee, Constitution and Canons, Fresh Start.

Statement: In my thirty years of ordained life in three dioceses, I have worked with varieties of people and communities, have explored new approaches to old problems, and prided myself on accomplishing good things with minimal money. I enjoy working with others committed to a positive future for the Episcopal Church in western Oregon. Opportunities abound for expanding the work of God in this unique place. It is a challenging time in which our best efforts and creativity are called for. I look forward to helping our new bishop discover what God is calling our diocese and people to do.

CLERGY ORDER ONE-YEAR TERM

The Rev. Dn. Marla McGarry-Lawrence
St. Michael & All Angels, Portland

Parish activities: Hispanic Ministry, Outreach & Justice Council, St. Brigid's Guild for Healing Ministry, Eucharistic Visitor Ministry coordinator, Pastoral Care, Worship Commission.
Diocesan activities: Board member, Episcopal Peace Fellowship; Portland Metro Episcopal Hispanic Clergy; newly appointed Diocesan Missioner, American Friends of the Episcopal Diocese of Jerusalem; previously served on Diocesan Council, Commission on Ministry, and as program director/registrar for the Metro East School of Ministry.

Statement: I believe in our diocesan vision of inclusion and respect for all people. My long experience as a deacon serving with a Latino congregation in worship, pastoral care, and advocacy will bring the needs, concerns, and hopes of underrepresented Spanish-speaking communities to our diocesan leadership. As demographics in Oregon continue to change, I believe the Episcopal Church is particularly poised to stand as a beacon of welcome for all and I want to be part of God's great plan for our future together.

The Rev. Albert Peter Krueger
St. Andrew, Portland

Parish activities: Food Pantry, Indian Ministry, Pastoral Care, preaching, Sacramental Rites, outreach, Bishop's Advisory Committee
Diocesan activities: Indian Missioner and member of the Commission to End Racism

Statement: I am pleased with the leadership our Standing Committee has given us during the difficulties of the last few years. I want to see that continue. I bring 25 years of experience as a priest in the Diocese of Oregon. Currently vicar of a small congregation, I will draw the new bishop's attention to the needs and potentials of the many small churches of our diocese. As Indian Missioner, I am connected to an active, talented, and ambitious network of indigenous Episcopalians nationwide. I support blessing of same-sex unions and the ministry of the diaconate.

LAY ORDER

Patricia Wohlwend
Church of the Good Samaritan, Corvallis

Parish activities: Coordinator of pastoral ministries, delegate to convention, Eucharistic minister/Eucharistic visitor/licensed worship leader.

Diocesan activities: Associate chaplain, pastoral services, Good Samaritan Regional Medical Center; convener, Parish Discernment Committee; coordinator of parish Prayer Chain; coordinator of parish Pastoral Ministry Committee; co-directress, Altar Guild; Healing Ministry.

Occupation: Retired

Statement: I am very pleased and honored to be considered for service on our Diocesan Standing Committee. These last five years on the Commission on Ministry, in the company of its inspired and compassionate members, has opened to me a vision of a diocesan community nurtured in Christ—a community where every member and every ministry is valued and respected. I am deeply appreciative of the beauty of connectedness in collaboration, and I will, with God's help, endeavor to do my best in this work.

Kerlin Richter
St. Michael & All Angels, Portland

Statement: I love the Episcopal Church and would enjoy the opportunity to serve it. These are exciting and challenging times for the Church and for the world. I think there are as many opportunities as there are hard questions. I can bring a fresh perspective along with a deep respect for the church.

Board of Trustees

(Elect one (1) clergy for a three-year term)

(Elect one (1) lay person for a three-year term)

CLERGY ORDER

The Very Rev. Anthony "Bud" Thurston
St. John the Evangelist, Milwaukie

Diocesan activities: President Pro Tem, Board of Trustees

Statement: I currently serve as the President Pro Tem of the Board of Trustees. Initially I was appointed to fill an unexpired term, and then elected at the last diocesan convention for the completion of that term of one year. This has been a critical year for the diocese, and I have found that I very much enjoy working with the Board. I bring some experience, a great deal of interest, and the capability to serve in this capacity.

LAY ORDER

Weston M. "Tony" Johnson II
Ascension, Portland

Parish activities: LEM 1, Lector, EMC chair, Parish treasurer & vestry member (all current)

Occupation: Retired commercial loan officer

Statement: At various times during my 35-year banking career, I provided financial guidance to religious, social service, and cultural organizations. I learned first-hand what constitutes effective leadership and management as well as the important roles that boards play in assuring governance and accountability at the highest levels. My present volunteer experience includes Outside In, on whose board I have served for 19 years, including three years as chair. If elected to the Board of Trustees, I would work to ensure both continued fiscal integrity and the effective use of assets to support the work of the diocese.

Marcia Kelley
Prince of Peace, Salem

Parish activities: Former BAC member and junior warden, chair of various parish events, chair, Salem Art Fair Food Booth; usher, reader, former Eucharistic server, convention delegate (numerous times).

Diocesan activities: Diocesan Council (mid-1990s), three years as Willamette Convocation representative, Diocesan Council 2006-09 (elected in November 2005 by convention).

Occupation: Semi-retired legislative advocate; former small business owner (10 years).

Statement: I would bring the skills of a business owner in a service industry. Over the past 20 years, I have served the Salem area as an elected official as a member of the Salem Keizer Transit District and have served as treasurer, vice-president, and president. The transit district is a special district in Oregon with a budget over $42 million. I have dealt with major building projects ($32 million) as a development team member. I understand budgeting and investment needs of public and private bodies. After years on Council I appreciate the interaction needed between diocesan elected bodies.

Diocesan Council

(Elect two (2) clergy for a three-year term)

(Elect two (2) lay for a three-year term)

CLERGY ORDER

The Rev. Kathleen Galvin
St. Barnabas, McMinnville

Parish activities: Rector Diocesan activities: Fresh Start, Convocation, Nominating Committee

Statement: The congregation of St. Barnabas and I are deeply interested in the future of this diocese, and I believe that my eclectic experiences in Minnesota and Arizona are of value to the Diocese of Oregon. Ordained in Minnesota, I served on Diocesan Council, Steering Committee of Council, Ecclesiastical Court, and the board of the House of Prayer. I also worked among the Sioux and Chippewa people. In Arizona, I sat on a committee for indigenous people and completed my D.Min. in congregational development with its focus on the development of a spiritual community within a parish setting.

The Rev. Patricia Millard
Holy Cross/Iglesia Santa Cruz, Boring

As a bilingual vicar serving a bicultural congregation, my focus in ministry is intercultural dialogue, intercultural urban ministry, and developing and providing training for ministry in Latino/Hispanic settings. At Holy Cross, this has also included developing culturally congruent Christian formation programs for children and youth.

This ministry setting often brings me to advocate for the outsider. I passionately believe in the ministry of hospitality and in opening the doors for all people towards the creation of a faithful and active community in the service of the Gospel. I currently serve as an anti-racism trainer and on the Commission to End Racism.

The Rev. Dn. Marjorie K. Oughton
St. Alban, Albany

Parish activities: Prior to ordination, I served as lay reader, Eucharistic minister, Eucharistic visitor. Currently I am a deacon assigned to St. Alban's, where my responsibilities include outreach ministries, pastoral care, preparation of acolytes, lay readers, Eucharistic ministers, and visitors.

Diocesan activities: Alternate Delegate, Delegate to Diocesan Convention from St. Paul, Salem.

Occupation: Retired after 30 years in technology management in school districts. Responsibilities included budgeting, strategic planning, and project management in school districts from 13,000 to 130,000 students, staff from 13 to 150, and multimillion-dollar budgets.

Currently, I am beginning my third unit of Clinical Pastoral Education at Oregon State Hospital in preparation for geriatric chaplaincy. Training has included classes in pastoral care, counseling, working with small groups; and clinical work with geriatric and dementia patients and leading small groups for patients on loss and grief.

Statement: God has called me to ministry among the elderly with a particular concern for the elderly who suffer from Alzheimer's disease and dementia, their caregivers, and their families. I hope to bring this concern to the diocesan level so that the diocese can develop programs to assist parishes in ministering to the elderly and to provide support to families and caregivers.

The Rev. Julie H. Smith
St. Bede, Forest Grove

Parish activities: Diocese of Oregon: Currently vicar, St. Bede; associate rector, St. John the Baptist, Portland (2005-2008); Missioner for Church Development, Holy Family, Happy Valley (2008). Diocese of Northern California: vicar, St. Barnabas, Mt. Shasta; priest in charge, St. Mark, Yreka; hospital chaplain, Mercy Medical Center, Mt. Shasta. Diocese of Olympia: associate rector, St. Barnabas, Bainbridge Island, WA.

Diocesan activities: Fresh Start facilitator, Diocese of Oregon and Diocese of Northern CA; Church Growth and Development Committee (2006-08); Consultants Group, Diocese of Oregon; Ecclesiastical Court, Diocese of Northern CA (2003-04); Commission for Companion Diocese of Honduras, Diocese of Northern CA (2004-05).

Statement: What a wonderful opportunity it is to potentially serve on Diocesan Council with a new bishop. The mission of the church is clear: restoration and unity in Christ. As people of God in the Episcopal tradition we have much to offer Oregonians seeking a spiritual life. In order to make disciples for our churches, our mission needs to be informed by our own spiritual commitment as leaders and passing that teaching on to our members. I offer to Council and the diocese my skills and experience in consulting, organizational and leadership development with health care, social-service agencies and churches as they may best be used. I believe strongly in the ministry of all the baptized our future as a church rests in equipping and empowering our laity to live out their baptismal ministries in the church and outside the church in their daily lives. As a member of Diocesan Council I will continue in my commitment to the Great Commission in support of planning creative ministry programs for renewed hope and spiritual transformation for this diocese.

LAY ORDER
Patty Adsit
St. Stephen, Newport

Parish and local activities: Currently treasurer, Episcopal Church Women treasurer, and choir member. Liturgy Committee, Combined Ministries Committee of St. Luke, Waldport-St. Stephen/San Esteban, Newport. I have previously held most BAC and ECW offices and even served as choir director for awhile.

Diocesan activities: Three years as Central Convocation lay representative to Diocesan Council, 2005-2007. 2 years on the Program & Budget Subcommittee. Delegate to diocesan convention from St. Stephen, Newport, for several years of the past decade.

Statement: This is an exciting time for the Diocese of Oregon, as we choose a new bishop and look forward to years of growth and service in "God's Vineyard" of western Oregon. The Diocesan Council will help guide us in this work. I would be honored to serve as your council representative.

Donald E. Amundson
St. Andrew, Portland

Parish activities: Currently on BAC, also on BAC 2001-04; Lay Eucharistic Minister; Home Visit Eucharistic Minister; junior warden, 2001-2004; co-chair, St. Andrews Bazaar.

Diocesan activities: Lay delegate to convention last five years; Lay preacher; chair, Indian Commission

Occupation: Retired and owner of internet home-based business

Statement: I am seeking this position on the Diocesan Council because I see the church moving in a new and exciting direction. I feel that since I am not tied to the past, I can approach ideas and faith-based ideals from a new perspective. I believe that we as a church are being called to invite "Others" into our midst. I believe that I can bring new ways to approach those who wish to commune with us.

Carol L. Davis
St. Thomas, Dallas

Parish Activities: Member, Altar Guild; member Episcopal Church Women.

Diocesan activities: Presently serving as lay representative to Diocesan Council (one year); member, Mission and Ministry Committee; member, Willamette Convocation (eight years); representative from St. Thomas to diocesan convention (two years). Also, I have attended several diocesan workshops including Appreciative Inquiry, Anti-Racism Training and Church Growth and Development.

Occupation: Retired educator

Statement: My one-year experience on Council has motivated me to run again. Through this experience I have become increasingly aware of the many challenges that face our diocese. I believe that we will succeed in the years ahead, but I am also aware that the primary movement for change must come through the work of the Diocesan Council. As a teacher I have been a leader in working with change; I am able to work with small and large groups; and understand the role of the budget committee in making decisions that will support future growth. I want to continue the work I started and to be part of what may be a new vision for our diocese, contributing my skills and supporting the work of others.

Richard A. Raub
St. Bartholomew, Beaverton

Parish activities: Food Pantry and Convention delegate, Sunset Convocation delegate to Council

Statement: I am honored to have been nominated by the St. Bartholomew's vestry to a three-year term on the Diocesan Council. Even though my tenure in Oregon is short, I have been actively involved in the church for more than 30 years. This includes vestries and a four-year term as senior warden at St. Lawrence Church in Libertyville, IL (last parish). There, I also participated in a few limited diocesan activities. Prior to moving to Libertyville, I was an active member for many years on the Diocese of Springfield (IL) Department on Missions. During that time, I worked closely with a mission in Decatur, IL at the specific request of the bishop.

In the years to come, our diocese will need to improve its financial security. The Diocesan Council can play a critical role. Because of my earlier roles as well as past president of a volunteer fire company and senior warden, I have an appreciation and understanding of the needs to ensure financial security.

Oregon Episcopal School Board or Directors

(Elect three (3) individuals for three-year terms)

Ann C. Carter
Trinity Cathedral, Portland

Parish activities: Substitute teacher for Sunday school

Occupation: Marketing and communications consultant

Statement: Our son, Charlie Palmer, graduated from OES in June and was fortunate to be in such a stimulating academic environment. As a lifelong Episcopalian, it is gratifying to have had Charlie in an excellent school that is faith-based. His experience at OES shaped Charlie in many important and positive ways. I joined the Board of OES three years ago and have contributed my time chairing the Committee on Religious and Spiritual life, serving on the Advancement and Diversity Committees, and chairing the Parent Fund. I would be grateful for the opportunity to continue to contribute to OES as a trustee.

Domingo Garcia, Jr.
St. John the Baptist, Portland

Parish activities: pledging member of Parish since August, 2006 (family relocated to Oregon in Summer 2006), Sunday school teacher ("Godly Play" accredited instructor) since 2007, active member of various parish projects (including Christmas pageant, patronal feast, and Sunday café).

Occupation: Chief Tax Officer, Nike, Inc.

Statement: I am a concerned and invested member in the OES community. Our family has made OES and St. John's integral parts of our lives. As such, I want to insure OES continues to support our family and our community in a manner consistent with its historic mission, vision, and values. I am a trained attorney with more than 20 years experience in corporate law and, more importantly, I have previously served as finance chair and president of a K-8 Episcopal school in San Jose, CA. These experiences make me keenly aware of the challenges and opportunities faced by OES.

Steve Lovett
Grace Memorial, Portland

Parish activities: Vestry/senior warden

Occupation: Lawyer

Statement: Both my children attend OES and serving on the board is my way of involving myself in their school. I have served on the OES board for the past several years and am currently a board officer and executive committee member. I am the only practicing lawyer on the board and regularly deal with the legal aspects of the board's business. I truly enjoy working with the many talented and dedicated individuals on the OES board and look forward to continuing to do so in the future.

Trinity Cathedral Chapter

(Elect one (1) individual for a three-year term; one (1) individual for a one-year term)

THREE-YEAR TERM

The Rev. Phillip W. Ayers
Ss Peter and Paul, Portland

Parish activities: Assisting priest, parish historian and archivist, Brigid's Table

Diocesan activities: Fresh Start, Liturgy and Music Commission, St. Benedict's Guild Chaplain, Clergy Conference Committee, assistant to Diocesan Archivist

Occupation: Retired rector, Ascension, Portland

Statement: Since being involved in a ministry of hospitality as a one-day-a-month chaplain in a former diocese's cathedral, I have envisioned such a ministry at our own cathedral. It is important, I feel, to open our cathedral church for prayer, rest, and tours of its architectural treasures on weekdays. Dean Lupfer and I have been in conversation about the possibility of a "Docent Ministry" for the past few years. By serving on the Chapter, I would hope to help make this idea a reality and to show my strong support for the cathedral, its mission and ministry to its parish, the diocese, and the community at large.

The Rev. Dr. Ken Arnold
Parish: St. Stephen, Portland

Biographical Info: After moving to Portland in 2007, Deacon Arnold founded a publishing company, issuing five books in liturgy and theology by Episcopalians. In Spring 2009, he was licensed to function in the diocese and assigned to St. Stephen's Parish, where he established a healing ministry and has expanded outreach. He has worked with deacons on a diaconal training program and is assisting with communications for the diocesan election. He is a member of the board of The Episcopal Church and the Visual Arts (ECVA). Previously, he was publisher for Church Publishing Inc. and director of communications for the Diocese of Massachusetts.

Statement: As director of communications for the Diocese of Massachusetts, I was closely involved with diocesan-cathedral relations. As a former manager of two nonprofit publishing companies, including Church Publishing, I am familiar with the financial and management issues organizations face (I can read a balance sheet, for example). I also have substantial skills as a communicator and writer. It would be a privilege to offer my skills to the cathedral.

ONE-YEAR TERM

Catherine Healy
Ss Peter and Paul, Portland

Parish activities: Vestry

Diocesan activities: Former diocesan staff member, Christian Education Commission, Commission to End Racism

Statement: My involvement with youth, young-adult, and Hispanic ministries in this diocese has made me appreciate the cathedral's role as a common gathering place for our diverse community. As a member of the Trinity Cathedral Chapter, I hope to help congregations make use of all that Trinity Cathedral has to offer and assist in the development of cathedral programs that benefit the whole diocese.

The Rev. Caroline Litzenberger, Ph.D.
St. Michael & All Angels, Portland

Parish Activities: Associate Priest (non-stipendiary), St. Michael and All Angels, Portland (2009-Present)

Coordinator, catechumenal process (2000-02); member, parish vestry (1996-97); chair, stewardship committee (1984-85); member, parish vestry (1996-97, 1982-84, senior warden, 1982-83); member, liturgy and music commission (1970-89, 1994-97, chair 1978-89, 1995-97); member, choir (1964-02)

Diocesan activities: Member, Diocesan Personnel Committee (2008-Present); member, Portland State University Chaplaincy Taskforce (2007-Present)

Member, Standing Committee (filling last year of an unexpired term, 2007-2008); member, Oregon Episcopal School, board of trustees (2005-2008); member, Commission on Ministry, Committee for Baptismal Ministry Development (2004-2007); co-convenor, Commission on Ministry, Committee for Baptismal Ministry Development (2004-2005); member, Total Ministry Taskforce (2001 - 04); member, Diocesan Long Range Planning Committee (1988 - 89); member, Board of Trustees, Oregon Episcopal School (1980 - 89); co-chair, Camps and Conferences Commission (1976-77); chair, Committee on Interim Committees of Diocesan Convention (1973 - 75)

Occupation: Supply priest, Diocese of Oregon; associate professor of History, Portland State University; adjunct professor of church history, Northwest House of Theological Studies

Priest associate, St. Aidan, Gresham, involved with adult formation, preaching, and pastoral and sacramental ministries (2004-2006); assisting clergy, St. John the Baptist (2002 - 04), involved with adult formation, preaching, and sacramental ministries. Prior to ordination: St. Michael and All Angels, associate for youth and adult Christian formation (2000 - 02)

Statement: A life-long Episcopalian, I have served in diocesan and parish leadership since 1970. I believe we are called to use our gifts, plus our knowledge and experience, to do God's work in the world in the name of Christ. Our Baptismal Covenant provides the foundation for this work, while prayerful, spirit-filled discernment helps us determine our particular ministries. This perspective combined with my experience in parish ministry—as a lay leader, vestry member, senior warden, and priest—as well as my rich experience as an Episcopalian in this diocese, have prepared me well to serve on the Trinity Cathedral Chapter.

Legacy Health System Board of Directors

(Elect one (1) individual for a three-year term)

James Baxendale
Trinity Cathedral, Portland

Parish activities: Usher Guild, Cathedral delegate to Columbia Convocation and Diocesan Convention. Prior service on Outreach Commission and Planned Giving Committee.

Diocesan activities: President of Columbia Convocation, Trustee of the Diocese of Oregon, member of the Bishop Search Committee.

Occupation: Regulatory consultant, corporate lawyer with specialty in governance and regulation; formerly VP and General Counsel of a Seattle biopharmaceutical firm.

Statement: As a lifelong Anglican and a corporate lawyer, my passion and ministry are to help advance good governance in our diocesan institutions. If elected I will use my talents to vigorously represent the interests of the diocese and, in turn, help Legacy discharge its obligations to the diocese and the communities it serves. I have advised or served on boards of directors of many for-profit and not-for-profit corporations. Specifically relevant experience includes: service as deputy public advocate of New Jersey representing the public interest in hospital rate-making proceedings; service with the board of directors of United Hospitals of Newark, a multi-hospital system similar to Legacy's; administrative judge for Medicaid fraud cases; vice president and general counsel of a Seattle biopharmaceutical firm in which position I negotiated clinical trials agreements with many leading medical centers. I was for many years, deputy general counsel, and an officer, of Portland General Corporation (PGE's holding-company) responsible for energy regulatory matters, and was subsequently CEO of one of PGC's subsidiaries.

Larry Chalew
All Saints, Portland

Parish activities: Senior warden, Sunday School teacher

Occupation: National accounts director, Omnicare Inc.

Statement: As the national accounts director for Omnicare, Inc., which serves skilled nursing and assisted living communities across the nation with pharmaceutical services, I come to the board of directors of Legacy Health Systems with a wealth of medical and pharmacy knowledge. Caring for the individual is paramount to the success of any organization, whether that individual is a patient, employee of other stakeholder. I have been in the health care industry for more than 20 years and have seen many changes in healthcare, some for the good and some not so good. I am hoping to be able to assist in creating a healthcare system at Legacy that is responsive to the community's and patients' needs by continuing to provide a high level of compassionate service that is so needed in these difficult economic times.

Holly Hendricks
Trinity Cathedral, Portland

Parish activities: Dean's Search Committee (past), Personnel Committee (past)

Diocesan activities: Board of Directors, Legacy Health (two terms), Delegate

Occupation: Retired (due to Multiple Sclerosis)

Statement: Please re-elect me to the Legacy Board of Directors. I bring six years of experience and continuous service. I have established excellent working relationships with fellow board members whom I now count as friends. I chair the Community Health Committee and am a member of three other committees. One of four women on the board and a "senior" member, I can meet the substantial time commitment required and am familiar with the issues facing Legacy. As we select a new bishop, my tenure will help ease their transition onto the Board.

Stan Smith
St. Barnabas, Portland

Parish activities: two times on the vestry, senior warden, junior warden, chair, rector search committee, Lay Eucharistic Minister, Lay Eucharistic Visitor, buildings and grounds commissioner, budget committee, finance committee, men's group.

Occupation: Health Care Education and Executive Recruiting

Statement: I serve Christ many ways with my faith and ministries at the parish. After earning a degree in Business from Oregon State University, I began a career in health care, initially as a nursing home administrator. I founded Provider Management, providing executive recruiting and online education for the health care industry. Other opportunities for services were afforded me as chair of the board of a school district, chair of the Regulatory Review Committee for Oregon Healthcare Association, board positions as a Rotarian, community speaker for the Oregon Donor Program, and speaking nationally at conventions and meetings regarding the future of assisted living. I am able to bring those talents and time to this position with my extensive knowledge of healthcare, volunteerism, board experience and strong faith that would represent the Episcopal Diocese of Oregon as a member of the Board of Directors of Legacy Health System with strength and dedication.

James R. Walker
St. Philip the Deacon, Portland

Parish activities: Lay Eucharistic Reader, vestry (1992-95), junior warden, Gearhart Youth Camp counselor (1967-68), EYC youth group co-leader (1969).

Diocesan activities: OES Board of Trustees (1979-83), Commission to End Racism (2004-5), Anti-Racism certified trainer (2006-present), Bishop Search Committee. Occupation: Retired since 2002 following more than 30 years in sales, management and marketing with Fortune 500 companies.

Statement: My personal competencies and experiences include development (fundraising), market research, succession planning, executive compensation review, planning, organizing and focus group management. I am prepared to help in any area deemed appropriate.
